Oakville Strategic Traffic Review

Oakville, Ontario

The Town of Oakville commissioned iTRANS Consulting to review its traffic signal operations and data collection programs. The study, named the Oakville Strategic Transportation Review, examined the Town's traffic safety methodologies, using both in-office and field investigations, and offered cost-effective alternatives to existing methods. iTRANS staff also conducted original research that offered alternative phasing strategies, a review of pedestrian timing strategies, and an assessment of off-peak and weekend-hour timing plans. Moreover, staff evaluated other jurisdictions' signal practices. Finally, the iTRANS team assessed the merits of comparative software methodologies, such as CCG and HCS, enabling the Town to select its preferred approach.
